 - MSR conference (from years 2025 to 2020).
 - Track -> Data and Tool Showcase
 - <https://2025.msrconf.org/track/msr-2025-data-and-tool-showcase-track>
 2. Search the paper on web (you can create your student account here <https://www.e-information.ro/> and then use the menu “Profil institutional” to search the paper on some of databases – Springer, Elsevier, WOS, etc, or <https://arxiv.org/> or researchgate, zenodo, figshare, etc)
 3. Create a Summary document. Read the paper and make a summary document of maximum 1 page (1 paragraph of the approach and the motivation of the tool, 1 paragraph about the aim of the tool and the novelty, 1 paragraph about how the tool was validated). This document must contain the title of the paper + doi + team members.
 4. Create a Tool analysis document. Download the tool described in the paper (from specified conferences) and use it for one project. Create a document of maximum 1 page describing the use of the tool: how easy/hard was to install it and used it, what benefits the tool offers (the results/findings with the tool). Add 3-5 screen captures of the tool in use (on your computer). This document must contain the title of the paper + doi + team members.
 5. Create a video with the tool in use/execution for. Prepare a 3 to 5 minutes video with the tool in execution for a designed scenario to illustrate the use of the tool, the findings and the benefits of using it. The video must contain your voice explaining the use of the tool for the specific scenario with comments on the findings.
